English Philology Teacher Training Programme MA Studies Full time
Krótki opis / Short description
Seminar focus: Teaching English as a foreign language The seminar will focus on the issues related to teaching English, analyzed with the use of critical pedagogy and critical applied linguistics. Participants of the seminar will learn the theoretical assumptions of a critical approach in language education research and the basic research methods in this area, including content analysis and critical discourse analysis. During the seminar, participants will also gain knowledge about research methodologies other than those mentioned above and the preparation of the research process. Then, the participants will choose the research area (e.g. interactions in the language classroom, language teaching books, learning space, perception of the position of the English language), design and realize their own research project. The seminar and the research will be of an interdisciplinary nature, apart from applied linguistics, including also cultural studies, sociology of education and pedagogy.
